Six Persons Are Injured In Road Mishaps

3 Countians Hurt; Hanoverton Scene Of 2 Accidents

A North Jackson boy driving a go-cart and three Columbiana County motorists were among six persons hurt in weekend traffic mishaps on district highways.

Frank Kerr, 12, of RD 1, North Jackson, driver of the go-cart, is in fair condition in South Side Hospital in Youngstown with a compound fracture of the right arm, fractured leg and multiple abrasions.

His vehicle collided on Gault Rd. near his home Sunday at 2:05 p.m. with a car operated by Dorotha Ulrich, 56, of Youngstown.

Patrolman James W. Smith reported the Kerr youth was riding north in his go-cart and made a left turn into a private drive directly into the path of the oncoming Mrs. Ulrich. The impact drove the go-cart beneath the front end of the car with the youth still in the driver's seat.

Workmen lifted the front end of the auto to extricate the boy and his go-cart.

Go-carts may be operated on public highways if they have license plates and meet other requirements. The Kerr cart did not meet state requirements, the patrol said. The accident is still under investigation.

Leetonia Man, 2 Others Hurt

Francis Macry, 39, of 44 Walnut St., Leetonia, his passenger and a Youngstown woman received injuries in a two-car mishap this morning at 12:10 on Afternoon Route 14, three miles northwest of the Columbiana County line.

Macry received contusions of the forehead, abrasions of the nose, and contusions and abrasions of the left elbow and forearm. His passenger, Anna Mae Tobb, 29, of Beloit, suffered lacerations of the forehead and contusions of the chest. The wife of the operator of the second car, Mrs. Audrey Hopkins, 38, of Youngstown was cut on the scalp.

Miss Tobb was admitted to Salem Central Clinic where she is listed in good condition. Macry was treated and released while Mrs. Hopkins did not require treatment.

The Canfield patrol said Macry was traveling northwest and making a turn to go west on Route 165, and Harold Hopkins, 38, of Youngstown crashed a stop sign and skidded into the side of Macry's car. Hopkins was cited for failing to stop at a stop sign.

Palestine, Poland Drivers Cited

Two motorists were arrested by the Canfield patrol Sunday afternoon after a two-stage, three-car mishap on Route 165, about two miles south of the Columbiana County line.

Cited were Louella Little, 26, of Howell Rd., East Palestine, and John Piepenbrink, 38, of Poland.

The two-part mishap started at 2:20 p.m. when Miss Little stopped on the highway and backed into a private drive. Her backing car was struck by another southbound auto operated by Charles Lumley, 21, of 92 N. Walnut St., East Palestine.

Two minutes later, Piepenbrink came over the crest of the hill and struck Lumley's car, knocking it into the Little car.

The East Palestine woman was cited for backing without using caution and the Poland man for failing to stop within the assured clear distance.

Two Hanoverton Crashes

It was a tough weekend on telephone poles in Hanoverton where two Sunday mishaps resulted in minor injuries to Dugannon and Hanoverton area men.

Hurt in separate, nearby one-car accidents were Dewayne McDewitt, 20, of Dugannon, and Walter Ziegler, 22, of RD 1, Hanoverton.

McDewitt was taken to Salem Central Clinic where he is listed in fairly good condition with undetermined injuries. Ziegler did not require treatment.

Deputy marshal Roy Painter said McDewitt was going south on Route 9 Sunday morning at 2:15 when his new convertible went off the left side of the road and struck and broke off a telephone pole between the IGA store and Marquis Oil Co. The youth may have fallen asleep, Painter said.

After the car hit the pole, the

Adm. Ricketts Tells British U.S. View on NATO A-Force

EDITOR'S NOTE — Vice Adm. Claude V. Ricketts, the Navy's second-in-command, has returned from an important mission to London. He explained to British officials the U.S. Navy's thinking on the proposed NATO nuclear force of merchant-type vessels armed with missiles. He gives his views in this exclusive interview.

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice Adm. Claude V. Ricketts said today the Russians "would be incapable of preventing retaliation" from a fleet of Polaris missile-firing ships operating under the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Ricketts, vice chief of naval operations and the Navy's top expert on the proposed multilateral NATO nuclear force, made this confident statement in an exclusive interview.

It was his first such interview since returning June 8 from London. There, he explained to British naval and government officials the U.S. Navy's thinking on the proposed force of merchant-type vessels to be manned by mixed crews from some of the 15 NATO nations.

The British have been pictured as skeptical about the concept. In fact, except for the West Germans, no NATO nation has demonstrated any readiness to contribute cash and men to such a nuclear force.

Challenging the doubters, Ricketts contended a ship-borne Polaris force would have "a high degree of survivability" — meaning ability to elude any Soviet attack.

The Navy's second-in-command argued it would be impossible for the Soviets to pinpoint all or even a considerable number of the Polaris ships in the millions of square miles of ocean in which such vessels would roam.

This was the basis of Ricketts' assertion that the Russians would be unable to prevent this force of about 25 ships from launching their 200 or so missiles at Soviet targets if war came.

Ben-Gurion Quits As Head of Israel

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP)—David Ben-Gurion, prime minister almost continuously since Israel was founded in 1948, has resigned for personal reasons.

A government spokesman said he also will relinquish his seat in Parliament but will remain as head of a caretaker government until a new one is formed.

Speculation spread that the 76-year-old leader resigned Sunday because of criticism in Parliament over his handling of a security case. But a communique issued after a Cabinet meeting said Ben-Gurion's reasons for quitting were "not connected with any state problem or event."

One source said that when the Cabinet pressed Ben-Gurion for the reasons he replied, "I am keeping them to myself."

The security case involved German scientists developing nuclear rockets for the United Arab Republic. An Israeli security chief, who never was identified, resigned last March because of differences with Ben-Gurion. Opposition parties demanded an open debate on the resignation, but Ben-Gurion's Mapai party averted it.

Two Israeli agents on trial in Basel, Switzerland, on charges of threatening a relative of a German scientist in Egypt, testified last week that Egyptian factories were turning out nuclear rockets to menace Israel.

The trial produced a feeling that the security chief had been vindicated and that this induced Ben-Gurion to resign.

Once before, Ben-Gurion resigned under heavy fire but returned to office after heading a

Link-Up of 2 Russian Space Ships Doubtful

MULLINS' NEW OFFICE BUILDING — Most of the exterior work has been finished on the Mullins Mfg. Corp.'s new brick office building on S. Ellsworth Ave., opposite the factory itself. Occupancy by the executive staff is anticipated by early September, announced Robert Potter, president. Meanwhile, accounting department personnel who have been at the former plant in Warren, will move this week to Salem to occupy remodeled fourth floor quarters in the main building.

Woman Put Into Space On Sunday

MOSCOW (AP) — The world's first woman cosmonaut and a male Soviet space comrade whirled around the globe in separate spaceships today. It seemed doubtful that they would link up in orbit.

Valentina Tereshkova, 26, an attractive blonde, woke up feeling fine this morning after her first night in orbit, Tass news agency said.

Her space partner, Lt. Col. Valery Bykovsky, 28, also awoke refreshed from his third night of globe-girdling.

"Both cosmonauts began their working day with physical exercises," said Tass.

Tass said all systems on the two spaceships—Vostok 5 and Vostok 6—were working normally.

Soviet officials remained silent on whether Bykovsky and Miss Tereshkova would attempt a rendezvous in space.

Observers noted, however, that Miss Tereshkova is not a trained pilot and might not be able to carry out her role in a complicated link-up maneuver.

Tass said the purpose of sending a man and woman into space was to compare the effects of space flight on the two sexes.

The Soviet Union rocketed Miss Tereshkova, a former factory worker, aloft Sunday, two days after Bykovsky blasted into space. There was no official indication exactly how close their ships were or whether the two cosmonauts could see each other. In a joint message to Premier Khrushchev Sunday they said: "Our ships are at a close distance from each other."

Soviet communiques said both space ships had lost a little altitude.

There was no official word how long Miss Tereshkova and Bykovsky will remain aloft. Unofficial reports said they will land at short intervals within a day or so.

A government space expert in Tokyo predicted that Bykovsky would be returned to earth tonight because the lessening in orbital time of his ship would make continued space travel dangerous.

"The orbital time of Vostok 5 was reduced to 88 minutes 11 seconds on its 36th orbit," said Yoshiaki Nakata, chief of the ionosphere section of the Radio Research Institute in Tokyo.

"At this rate, the time will be reduced to less than 88 minutes by its 60th orbit tomorrow, and unmanned space ships in the past have all disintegrated at this orbital pace."

Rumors circulated in jubilant Moscow that a third Soviet cosmonaut might be sent up to join Bykovsky and Miss Tereshkova, but there was no official indication of this.

Word has been circulating for weeks, however, that the new Soviet space feat would have spectacular trimmings.

A Soviet announcement said Miss Tereshkova went into orbit at 12:30 p.m. Sunday and made radio contact with Bykovsky a half hour later.

Miss Tereshkova appeared to be enjoying her experience keenly. Strap, to her space couch, she smiled frequently as she was seen speaking into a microphone attached to her helmet.

Jury Selected for Ex-Clerk's Trial

LISBON — A jury was selected today for the second trial of Miss Roberta C. Smith, 37, of East Liverpool, charged in connection with an East Liverpool water department shortage of $23,841.

Miss Smith originally was charged with embezzlement of funds, but her trial in Common Pleas Court ended Dec. 7, 1962, in a hung jury. The jury was reprimanded by Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp for being unable to reach a verdict.

County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw subsequently asked the court to consolidate the embezzlement indictment with a larceny charge, and his request was granted by the court.

Train-Car Crash Kills Youngstown Girls

Gate Lights Working As 6 Die In Collision

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — The girls must have seen the flashing lights, witnesses said.

But the car carrying six Youngstown girls none after a swimming party drove into the path of a speeding freight train early Sunday, killing all six girls.

Two boys, following the girls' car on motor scooters, told police that flasher lights were working at the crossing in nearby Geneva. The boys said they were amazed to see the car pull onto the tracks, directly into the path of the Nickel Plate Road train.

The 80-car freight smashed the car into an almost unrecognizable tangle of twisted metal, and stopped a mile down the track with part of the car under the front of the engine.

The victims, all close friends, were Sylvia Sanker, 18, of suburban Boardman; Jennie Angelo 21, Darlene Muzenic, 21, Sondra Van Sack, 18, Julianne Palko, 20, and Barbara Cowan 19.

The girls left Youngstown Saturday morning to visit a friend's lakefront cottage at Geneva-on-the-Lake. Originally they had planned to stay overnight but later decided to return home for Father's Day, a relative said.

Kyle V. Andes, 45, of Conneaut, fireman and engineer who was operating the train, told authorities things happened so quickly he didn't see the car. He estimated the train was going 59 miles an hour at the time and said the flasher lights were working.

Police said they were unable to tell who was driving the car.

Investigating officers retracing the path of the girls' car said that it had stopped a short time before the collision at another grade crossing which was free of trains.

Senate To Vote On Speed Limit

Legislature Begins Next-to-Last Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Senate is expected tonight to give the state's motorists a little more latitude on expressway speed limits.

It is the first order of business as lawmakers return to Columbus for their 25th—and next to last—week of the regular session.

The measure to increase limited access highway speed limits from 65 to 70 miles an hour outside cities and from 50 to 60 inside municipalities already has House approval.

The legislative week, which will run through Friday again, is expected to see final enactment of most of the program proposed by Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Coming up Tuesday are Senate floor votes on administration bills to create "Golden-Age villages" for non-psychotic aged inmates of state hospitals make terms of cabiner officials concurrent with the governor's term of four years and appropriate $20 million for additions and betterments.

Also up for Senate decision Tuesday, in what promises to be one of the longest days of the session, are House-approved bills to:

Create several municipal courts and extend the jurisdiction of some existing courts.

Pay sundry claims against the state—which cannot be sued—Totaling nearly $1 million.

Cut from 70 to 50 per cent the personal property tax valuation on the first $100,000 of retail inventories and restaurant equipment.

JFK Asks Help In Integration

Congress, Ministers Hear Civil Rights Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional and religious leaders gathered at the White House today to hear appeals from President Kennedy that they act to improve the lot of Negro Americans.

The separate sessions are part of Kennedy's two-pronged attack on inequality: Using persuasion of private citizens to try to speed desegregation; sounding out key members of Congress prior to dispatch of his civil rights legislative package to Capitol Hill later this week.

On the voluntary front, Kennedy already has met with business and labor groups, with several governors and a week ago in Hawaii with the nations mayors. Another session with governors is planned for Tuesday, and there have been reports he will meet with educators Wednesday.

The President called in congressional leaders last week. This morning's repeat session comes amid signs that civil rights supporters still lack the votes to kill the filibuster Southern senators are almost certain to mount in opposition to Kennedy's legislation.

House passage of some form of civil rights legislation is regarded as likely. The story is apt to be different in the Senate, for an Associated Press canvass indicates leaders cannot count on marshaling the two-thirds of those voting to shut off debate.

The Dixie senators' key target probably will be an expected administration proposal calling for legal steps to prevent discrimination in public places and private businesses. The Kennedy program probably will include, too, proposals to strengthen voting rights, authorize the attorney general to act legally to speed school integration and to extend the life of the Civil Rights Commission.

The canvass shows that since May 9, 1962, when an effort to cut off talk on a bill to abolish

Youngstown Lawyer Gets Court Post

YOUNGSTOWN — Atty. George M. Jones, 39-year-old Youngstown lawyer who is a resident of Trumbull County, today was named by Gov. James A. Rhodes to the Ohio Seventh District Court of Appeals to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Judge John L. Donahue of Youngstown.

Atty. Jones, a 1951 graduate of the Ohio State University law school, will take his oath of office Wednesday.

His term will run to Feb. 8, 1965.

The new appellate court judge is a nephew of U.S. District Court Judge Paul Jones of Youngstown. He has never held public office but had announced his candidacy for the seat on the court made vacant by the elevation of Lynn B. Griffith to the Ohio Supreme Court.

He resides on the Youngstown Country Club Road in Liberty Township. He is a graduate of Rayen High School. Mr. and Mrs. Jones are the parents of two daughters and one son.

Gov. Rhodes said he made the recommendation following the recommendation of the Mahoning County Bar Association and endorsements of the Republican committees of Trumbull and Mahoning counties.

Judge Donahue died of a heart attack June 5 after attending a Belmont County Bar Association dinner meeting in St. Clairsville.

A white hearse took it to Merid.

Evers' Brother Takes Over Post

More Race Trouble Feared In Jackson

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The brother of slain Medgar W. Evers took over as Negro civil rights champion in Mississippi today and pledged to work for "the equality of all men."

Unsettled Jackson looked forward to the possibility of more demonstrations, such as the one on Saturday when hundreds of Negroes, crying "We want the killer," charged police barricades.

Although Charles Evers, 40-year-old brother of the assassinated field secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, did not disclose his policies in detail, the ferment in the Negro population was such that many onlookers had a sense of foreboding.

Leaders of the Negro movement to break down racial barriers in Jackson have proclaimed a policy of: "Demonstrate, demonstrate, demonstrate again."

Sunday was a comparatively quiet Sabbath. Four young Negro women walked quietly into St. Andrews Episcopal church, across the street from the governor's mansion, and were allowed to remain throughout the service.

However, at three other churches—Central Presbyterian, First Baptist and First Christian—Negroes were turned away.

The body of Evers, a World War II veteran, sped today to Washington for burial in Arlington National Cemetery Wednesday.

Council To Act On Sewage Rate

City Council, in regular session Tuesday evening, will continue its consideration of an ordinance increasing the city sewage rate.

Also scheduled for the attention of city legislators tomorrow is an ordinance to be introduced calling for the establishment of a municipal reserve fund or reserve funds.

An ordinance allowing the city sewage rate to be raised to 75 per cent of the established water rate from the current 53 per cent was introduced and given first reading at the last regular session of Council June 4.

While no councilman objected to a raise in the sewage rate, Councilman Fred Koenreich argued that the increase did not at this time need to be "22 per cent all at once." He expressed belief that an increase of 12 per cent, or to 65 per cent of the water rate, would be sufficient to allow the sewage department to meet expenses of operation and repairs.

Police In Lima Nab Kidnapers

Trio Wanted By Toledo Patrolmen

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Police fought a running gun battle with two men and a woman early today, then captured them and identified the trio as the same persons who kidnaped two Toledo patrolmen a few hours earlier.

Two Lima policemen, patrolmen Eugene Foster and William Williams, spotted a car whose description matched the one of the Toledo kidnapers, and radioed two other patrol cars to join the chase.

Through the town and west on U.S. 30 south sped the cars, with the suspects firing wildly. All three police cars were hit by heavy-caliber bullets, but the officers escaped injury.

As the police cars closed in, the suspects turned off the highway about five miles west of Lima into what they thought was a side road. However, it turned out to be a wide drive into a farmyard. The car crashed into a tree, and the policemen closed in. The suspects offered no resistance.

When taken to Lima City Jail, the men identified themselves as Billy Dean Condry, 23, and his brother, Tony, 33, of Sacramento, Calif. However, the police believed the names and addresses were false. The woman identified herself only as Ann.

"Were positive they're the kidnapers," Lt. William Davenport said.

The Lima police had been alerted Sunday night after two men and a woman, carrying heavy-caliber pistols, daringly kidnaped two Toledo patrolmen and a police cruiser. The policemen were released a few minutes later.

Toledo police said they believed the trio had been sought for armed robbery in Royal Oak, Mich., but authorities in that city said they knew nothing of any robbery there and were not notified by Ohio officials.

Less than half an hour after the two Toledo patrolmen, Norman Grodi and George Thabit, were released, the trio turned up in Perrysburg, about 15 miles south of Toledo.

Malcolm Hood, a Perrysburg policeman, stopped a car on U.S. 20. He said that a man and woman were in the front seat. He ordered them out for questioning, when suddenly the second man jumped up from a rear seat of the car and held a gun on him. Hood was disarmed and the trio continued south.

JFK's Trip Abroad May Not Be Worth Time, Trouble

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The main point in the dispute over President Kennedy's trip to Europe next week—he's been criticized for it—comes down to this: Is it to be Adenauer's successor. This is the question.

It doesn't figure to do any harm either. But it's about the most poorly planned trip Kennedy has made.

McGeorge Bundy, one of his top White House assistants, said Sunday the journey had been under consideration for a year. But since the consideration started things have changed in Europe and at home, too.

He'll fly to Germany next Sunday and then go to Ireland, the home of his ancestors, and then to Britain and Italy but not to France. The purpose is to pep up the Western alliance.

Since President de Gaulle of France has shaken the alliance more than anyone or anything, he would seem the one who most needs talking to. But De Gaulle didn't ask Kennedy to stop by.

The President will be leaving here at a time he calls critical for this country, meaning the racial dispute.

It hasn't subsided. Kennedy will set out for Europe not long after handing Congress a package of civil rights bills which will start such a fight that Congress may be here till next winter.

Germany, Britain and Italy— from the standpoint of long-range talking to the government leaders there—are pretty much in a short-range and gummy kind of condition.

In Germany Kennedy will talk to Chancellor Adenauer who may quit in another couple of months. So Kennedy will also have to talk to Ludwig Erhard, who is slated to be Adenauer's successor. This then, in no funny sense, will be double-talk.

In London Prime Minister Macmillan's government has been so shaken by a sex scandal that it's possible Macmillan himself won't be in office by the time Kennedy gets there.

He was supposed to visit Pope John XXIII but Pope John died.

A new Pope may have been chosen by the time Kennedy gets there—the cardinals start voting Wednesday—but that won't give him much time to get adjusted before seeing Kennedy. That part of Kennedy's trip may have to be called off.

There's even more uncertainty about the Italian government itself. Aldo Moro, premier-designate of the Christian Democrats, is trying to form a left-of-center coalition government, but Parliament has to approve.

While he's away, Kennedy can't even imagine what kind of racial explosion may burst in this country. He can hope it won't but he won't be here to do anything about it if it does.

As for the civil rights program, he hands Congress this week, that's a struggle he can tackle when he comes home. If he fights hard for it, it may cost him Southern states in the 1964 presidential race; if he doesn't, it may cost him a lot of Northern Negro votes in 1964.

What started out as a kind of dull year turned mean, sour, and rough.

Communists Making Most of Race Riots for Propaganda

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Racial violence in the United States gives the world's Communists a golden harvest of propaganda. They are making the most of it.

Newspapers and radio in Communist-ruled countries from China to Cuba have seized enthusiastically upon the events in the U.S. South.

The Communists tell the people of their own countries and the world that what is happening in the United States proves that claims of American freedom and democracy are fraudulent, that American leaders are hypocrites, that American "ruling circles" secretly plot brutal suppression of minorities.

Red propaganda machines are trying to see to it that the events in the United States do Americans and their system the most harm possible. The messages are pounded out day after day in broadcasts to Africa and other areas populated by colored peoples.

Inside Communist-ruled countries, the newspapers and radio make the most of dispatches and news pictures of violence in Southern states. Again and again the idea is stressed that violence and hatred show the true face of American democracy, that the race troubles are a natural outgrowth of the system, a "disease of capitalism."

The Soviet press has exhibited a large degree of satisfaction in reporting the events. Often the domestic press reporting of the race troubles from the United States is factual and restrained. But the general tenor of Soviet coverage seems aimed at convincing ing the Soviets that minorities in their nation—and all working people—are far better off than ordinary people under the American system.

How effective is this propaganda? One example: Friday, in North Korea, a U.S. general asked a Communist general for information on two U.S. pilots forced down in Red territory. The American asked the Communists to "act like men living in the 20th century." The North Korean whipped out a photograph of a police dog lunging at a Negro in Birmingham, Ala., and snapped that it was "the true picture of what you call civilization."

TRAFFIC CONTROL: Many split level homes suffer from bad traffic circulation. Often the living room serves as a highway for people going from one room to another. This split level, however, features a central gallery that aids good circulation. With its two patios, two porches and a balcony, it is also admirably adapted to outdoor living. The architect is Samuel Paul, 89-30 161 St., Jamaica, N.Y., and the plan is HA296P.

New Preservatives Developed To Keep Wood From Rotting

Usually paints and varnishes are not enough to keep wood from rotting. Wood will rot due to a fungus which thrives when moisture is present.

When wood is in contact with ground or where it can easily collect moisture, special preservatives should be used.

Cresote is the preservative most people know. However, in recent years others have been developed. Cresote bleeds through paint easily, has an unpleasant smell that lingers.

THE NEW PRESERVATIVES are available under a variety of trade names. They are likely to contain pentachlorophenol (most common), zinc naphthenate or copper naphthenate.

The penta preservatives are generally in an oil base. The more expensive types are likely to have clear oil. You can brush or spray on the material. It's best, however, to dip the piece in the solution so that it soaks in.

If you wish to paint later, check the manufacturers' instructions. Chances are you will have to seal the preservative with shellac or aluminum paint.

ZINC NAPHTHENATE is generally in a clear solution, is often used for sealing wood or for treating wood which later will be varnished. If you use this type a clear finish is needed so the wood grain will show through to advantage.

Use copper naphthenate if you intend to have a green color. This generally needs sealing before painting.

Whatever you use, remember that protection is given not by coating the surface—as with paint—but by soaking in as far as possible. If you can't soak, paint or spray it on.

FENCE POSTS SHOULD be placed in a container so the preservative soaks into the ends that will later be placed in the ground. It's a good idea to dip the ends of fence posts to the point at which they will be close to the ground.

Always apply preservatives to new lumber if it will be used on or near the ground. Lumber is available which has been pressure-treated with preservatives and this may be worth the extra cost in savings of time and trouble.

LOOK FOR SPOTS WHERE rot is likely to occur and apply preservatives around your home. The door sill is a likely place, so are the bottom and top edges of garage doors. Use an oil can with a long spout for some of these hard-to-get-at places.

Treat the bottoms of outdoor furniture and the joints as well. Apply wherever pieces of wood meet or overlap.

Always wear gloves. If spraying the preservative, wear a mask and glasses. Wash with plenty of soap and water if you do get some on you.

Building Permits

Permits for the building of a new family dwelling and for various home and property improvements were granted in recent days at City Engineer F. S. Barckhoff's office at City Hall.

Sam Rea Jr. has obtained a permit to construct a house with five rooms and bath at 1092 Jennings Ave., costing $15,000.

Other permits granted were for: A new roof at the residence of Donald Whitacre, 1113 Franklin Ave., $300. Siding wood for the home of Cecil L. Felton, 1181 Maple St., $1,200. Repair work to porches and siding of house at 559 Perry St. owned by Art Edling of RD 2, Salem, $500.

Finishing the upstairs of Harry E. Chilson's home at 1820 Fairview Court, $400.

Ohio Needs Junk Yard Law

Among the raft of bills pending before the Ohio General Assembly in its closing days is a little-publicized proposal that would help erase an eyesore from Ohio's rural countryside.

We're referring to the junk yard regulation bill sponsored by Sen. Edmund A. Sargus, D-St. Clairsville. It would put the flying of auto grave yards where it belongs — out of sight.

If the House passes the bill and the Senate concurs in amendments, all new or expanding junk yards outside of municipalities would be required to obtain licenses by Jan. 1, 1964. In its wisdom a House committee tightened the bill to apply to all existing rural junk yards by Jan. 1, 1965.

THE MOST IMPORTANT feature of the bill is the requirement that junk yards within 1,000 feet of state or county highways or within 300 feet of township roads be obscured by a solid fence or natural growth such as a hedgerow.

Licenses would not be issued to junk yards within this zone unless they were fenced.

And any dealer who operated without a license would be subject to a $1,000 fine.

Aside from cleaning up the countryside, the bill would do much to preserve and, in many cases, add to the value of properties which suffer under the proximity of sprawling, unsightly scrap heaps.

Equally important is the potential benefit to community development. Unfenced, unregulated junk yards on the fringes of a city stifle orderly growth.

MANY JUNK DEALERS already are doing what Sen. Sargus proposes and they should be commended for their initiative. But so far they are in a distinct minority.

The House has plenty of bills hanging fire—more than enough to keep it busy until adjournment. The junk yard bill is among relatively few that will be worth serious consideration. Unlike so many of these low-key bills that show up in the closing weeks of a session, this one tackles a real problem that has been untouched for too long.

We urge the House to give the bill the same favorable treatment it got in the Senate.

No Place Like First

Depending on your state of mind, expenditure of a billion dollars or more of public funds to keep pace with a Franco-British super jet airliner capable of flying 2,000 m.p.h. or faster looks like a must or a mess.

If it looks like a mess, you are aware of the fact jets already fly so far so fast the airlines can't keep them filled and are operating in the red.

If it looks like a must, you are thinking of the fact the United States is being challenged for first place in airplane design and construction and an order for the Franco-British airliner already has been placed by Pan-American World Airways.

If it looks like a mess, you are gritting your teeth over the idea of competing with semisocialized countries as if the Treasury of the United States had been taken over by state capitalism. You are in a mood to say that if private enterprise cannot develop a super jet airliner without government help, it shouldn't be developed.

But if it looks like a must, you are mindful that the current U.S. lead in jet airliners was made possible with public funds spent on development of military planes and whether anyone likes it or not the country that develops a 2,000 m.p.h. plane will be top dog until someone develops a plane that will go 3,000.

It is like getting to the moon. Whoever gets there first will have the drop on everybody else. There's no place like first place. No one remembers who lost, just who won. Keeping ahead of the Joneses is more fun than keeping up with them.

It all depends on how you feel about competition—whether it's the spice of life or a pain in the neck.

It's Just the Beginning

Pieces of the tapestry Nikita Khrushchev is weaving in Cuba already are beginning to float around Latin America.

Venezuela is the latest nation to become engaged in fighting Communist activity. The life of President Betancourt has been threatened. Terrorists are looting.

It's the old story. Some of the terrorists are natives who have subscribed to communism for some time. Others are newly imported Castroites.

WHEN FIDEL CASTRO invited Soviet Russia to take over Cuba, Khrushchev did not accept primarily to establish a base from which he could operate against the United States—although that always could be a possibility. His No. 1 motive undoubtedly was to establish a jumping-off place for insidious Communist infiltration into Central and South America.

It is unfortunate that in some of the Latin American countries their own governments have been unable to achieve economic prosperity, and thus their peoples are ripe for any change that might sound good to them on the surface.

THAT IS THE TYPE of situation the Communists have exploited around the world for a quarter of a century. It is how they become established. And, once established, they have a knack of taking over, lock, stock and barrel, with only puppet control by local citizens.

Cuba is the latest example. Now it is being used as a base for attempts at further infiltration in the Western Hemisphere.

Americans have not yet begun to see the end of the tragedy that befell Cuba when Khrushchev was permitted to take over.

Sacred Cow Will Proliferate

If you wonder where it's going to end when you see streets congested with auto traffic, a study by New York Port Authority gives no help.

The report says no end is in sight. Use of the automobile will continue to grow and use of rail transportation in the metropolitan area will continue to decline.

The only substantial growth of rail transportation is foreseen in "piggybacking," that logical arrangement whereby long-haul truck cargo is carried in truck trailers on flat-bed railroad cars.

Airplane freight will continue to increase, and so will water-borne freight. But the greatest rate of growth will be in autos for passengers. The "sacred cow" whose right to go anywhere and everywhere is very close to being absolute is not only here to stay. It's going to proliferate.

Autos must be accommodated. They and the environment in which they operate must be made compatible.

That point seems obvious, but it needs discussion. The country is full of people who think and talk as if they thought the automobile had passed its peak, or as if it were a nuisance that should be curbed.

Not so numerous but noisier are people who believe transportation should be reshaped to suit cockeyed ideas — that everybody should be forced to ride trains, buses, conveyor belts, or stay home.

New York Port Authority, responsible for planning the future of the country's largest metropolitan complex, is going at the problem from the opposite direction.

If the auto is going to continue to multiply it reasons, there had better be a corresponding multiplication of intelligence for taking care of it.

of blamelessness.

But plenty does go on. People at the top are as ornery as people at the bottom, with more means to indulge their off-beat impulses and peccadilloes.

This is the reason newspapers and the lawyer-politicians who hold the reins in government are essentially incompatible. They get along together for mutual convenience. Frequently they are fond of each other as individuals.

But their interests and aims are incompatible. One is interested in concealment and distortion, the other in revelation and truth. Sooner or later there is a head-on collision.

The Profumo scandal itself may be only evidence of a condition, not the condition in its entirety. The juicy elements of the scandal are trivial compared with the grim ramifications of a ministry unable to protect itself against the inroads of creeping decadence.

If this condition ever spreads to the United States, there would be similar cause for alarm here.

This is why there has been deep concern over suspicion of news management by the Kennedy administration. Management of information always goes on in one way or another; it is unavoidable.

The thing to be alarmed about is the motive for management—whether it is to develop more and better information or to repress unpleasant truths.

Latin America Brought Into Perspective In Survey

By DAVID STEINBERG

Washington's phrasemakers are working overtime to map lanes for a "hard-sell" promotion drive to U.S. business confidence in Latin America and the Alliance for Progress.

President Kennedy probably will use a White House press conference to pull the lanyard on the opening gun of the priority educational campaign stressing Latin America's consistent economic and chronic pockets of instability.

Administration and alliance officials openly fear that U.S. businessmen are developing a Freudian complex against Latin America from sensationalized political dispatches, a reportorial vacuum in the economic sphere and confusion over goals and methods of the alliance, which cannot hope to succeed without massive private support.

The disturbingly negative attitude of segments of U. S. business is nourished by wild rumors, fantastic distortions and a doleful lack of knowledge. Latter day prophets warn of imminent national bankruptcies in Latin America.

FINANCIAL PUNDITS conjure up precise flight of capital figures.

Political seers announce the dates of expected Communist take-overs and self-proclaimed economists "disclose" wholesale desertions by foreign investors.

While these prophecies of doom have some basis in the undeniably volatile political, economic and social climate of Latin America, the most casual attempt at objectivity, or the merest addition of perspective, paints a much different and infinitely more appealing landscape of Latin America.

One of the most dramatic efforts to "add some measure of balance to the U.S. public's view of Latin America" is contained in a forceful economic study just issued by the editors of Vision: "Latin America — a Positive View."

The respected Vision analysts following their opening blast at "what might be called the 'down-the-drain' syndrome" with 14 pages of heavily documented rebuttal and myth dispelling.

Admittedly, insidious inflation, political uncertainties, dwindling commodity prices, stagnating agriculture and fleeing capital in certain Latin countries has slowed the area's growth. But economic development throughout Latin America has been neither halted nor reversed. It continues at a respectable tempo.

The gross product of the 19 Latin Republics (excluding Cuba) jumped from $50 billion in 1950 to $80 billion in 1961. Exports are nearing $9 billion with imports slightly over $8 billion.

Manufacturing, particularly in Mexico, Brazil and Argentina, is moving ahead smartly with a 15 per cent annual expansion of transportation equipment, appliance and electrical equipment output setting the pace for chemicals, steel, cement and paper production.

GROWTH OF THESE industries, many requiring large markets, should prove a potent force in welding effective trading blocs through the Central American Common Market and the Latin American Free Trade Association.

The Vision study notes that despite little technical progress so far, inter-regional trade in CACOM rose 35 per cent last year and about 20 per cent in LAFTA.

After a brief statistical swing around Latin America, revealing some important economic achievements, Vision tackles the rumors, distortions and myths. They include:

1. U.S. investors withdrew $50 million more than they invested in Latin America last year. Noting that the actual figure is less than half that, Vision also points out that if the remitted profits of oil companies in Venezuela "is removed from the total, the net flow into Latin America last year was $159 million."

2. New U.S. investment in Latin manufacturing fell to 90 million last year. Vision asks what is "new" investment and observes that if reinvested earnings of U.S. subsidiaries in Latin America are included, "new" capital amounted to $400 million. With depletion, depreciation and amortization, the sum nears $1 billion.

3. U.S. companies are "pulling out." Here, Vision simply ticks off announced expansions by companies like Ford, Bethlehem, Caterpillar, J. I. Case, Esso, Shell, Phelps Dodge, Sears and Westinghouse.

4. The rest of the world shares growing U.S. apathy. Now the report lists among other things the fact that Common Market exports to Latin America soared 60 per cent in the last decade, private German investments top $300 million, France just signed a $150 million credit for Mexico, Japanese investments are climbing at $90 million a year.

And so the "positive view" of Vision continues item by item, adding perspective to the total picture.

The "point to remember" in assessing any of the risks in Latin America, Vision advises, "is that Latin America has been through all this before and grown in spite of it."

10 YEARS AGO—Salem's community swimming pool will cost approximately $80,000 when finished, Park Commission Chairman Gail Herron told City Council last night.

Ohio's Own

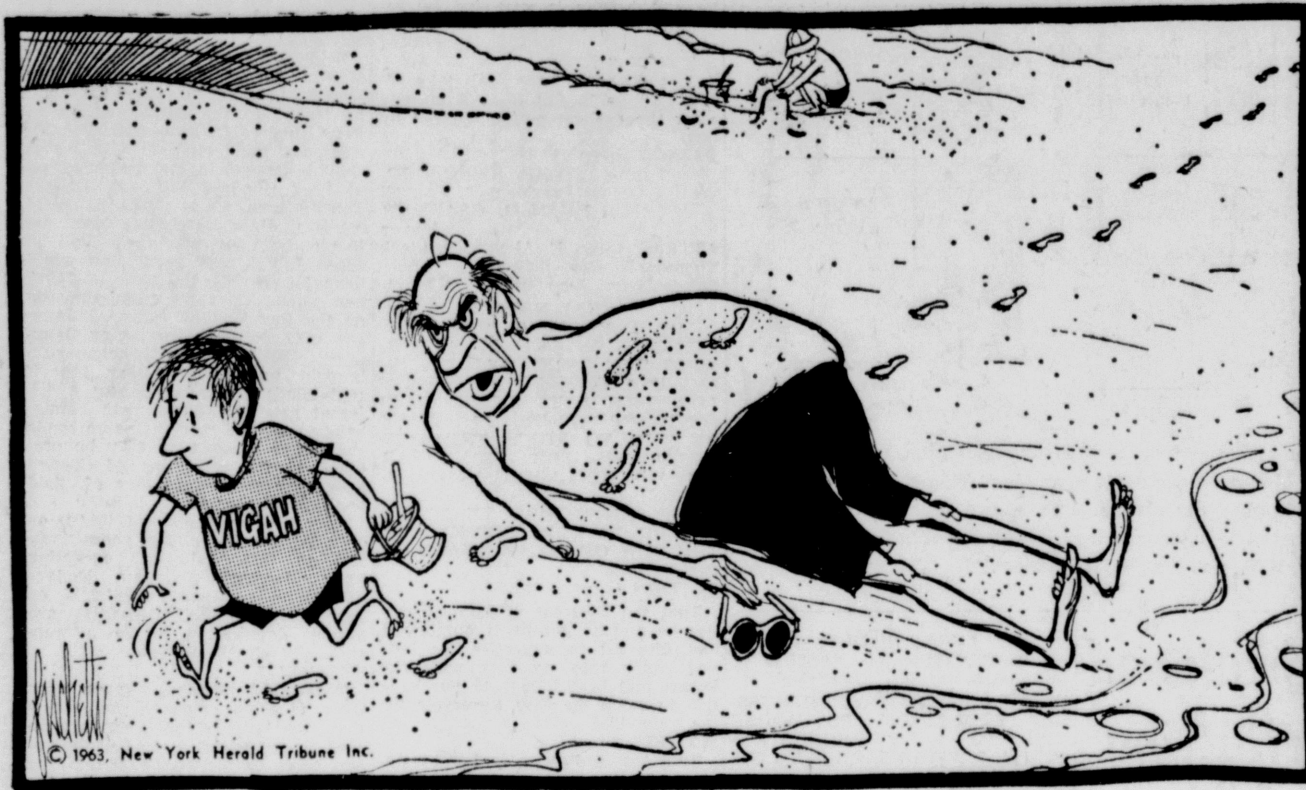

Despite the fact that Ohio's own flag has been in existence for over 61 years, the pennant-shaped banner still seems to be one of the state's well-kept secrets.

For the information of anyone who may not know that the state has a flag, let alone one which is over 61 years old, it has three red stripes, two white stripes and 17 stars scattered on a triangular field of blue which has a red and white circular patch in the center. The triangles represent the state's hills and valleys, the stripes its roads and waterways. Thirteen stars are grouped around the circular patch, symbolizing the 13 original states. Four additional stars remind us that Ohio was the 17th state to enter the Union. The white circle with its red center represents both Ohio's initial letter and the shape of the buckeye.

The Ohio flag, first shown publicly in 1901 at the Pan-American Exposition in Buffalo, gained legal status the following year when W. S. McKinnon, then Speaker of the House, introduced a bill which became law. The date was May 9, 1902.

Imports Hurt Hollywood

By VICTOR RIESEL

Movie glamour may be sustenance for an Oscar but live actors can't eat it and thousands are having difficulty surviving on what they earn for, since 1957 most screen players have been averaging between $3,000 and $4,000 a year.

Our own Hollywood — as I learned there recently from some very troubled men — grows leaner because scores of little Hollywoods around the world grow fatter on the production of American films.

Some of these little movie centers to which flow some of the U. S. gold reserve are behind the Iron Curtain, some in Yugoslavia. Some are in allied lands which produce our films but roll up strange restrictions on the right of U. S. movie makers to show films made in the United States.

When such movie colony leaders as Jack Dales, Screen Actors Guild executive secretary and SAG president George Chandler talk of the outflow of American gold they mean it — for their records are heavy with reports of multi-million-dollar spectacles scheduled for shooting abroad right up to 1965.

ONCE, HOLLYWOOD produced more "movies" than England, France, Italy and Germany combined. Now, each individually either equals or surpasses us. From Don Haggerty, one of the leaders of the Committee to Promote American Made Motion Pictures, comes word that in many studio crafts there have been slashes of working members by 50 and 60 per cent.

Our technicians go jobless because the animated films you soon may watch have been shot in the state-owned studios of Prague, Czechoslovakia; or in Lodz, Poland; or near Budapest, Hungary. Strange, isn't it?

One of the strong bidders against Hollywood is Yugoslavia. Movies are being made there with what they used to call stellar casts — big names such as Anthony Quinn, Ingrid Bergman, Big films, such as a swashbuckling saga of King Arthur's day. Big budgets, upward of $6 million.

Belgrade bids strongly. Don Haggerty's committee has been told of offers from the Yugoslavs of such inducements to producers as the free supplying of all studio sound stages, important sets, even technicians and craftsmen and back-lot facilities.

For the personal comfort of one producer, Marsha Tito's studio people threw in a free car and chauffeur.

FADE OUT. Now we pan in on our allies. There are 19 nations, to whom the United States has supplied billions either in arms or cash, which restrict the showing of American films. This they do by setting up internal screen-time quotas for their own and foreign pictures (we being the foreigners), or import quotas, high release taxes on imported films, restrictions on the number of prints of a film allowed inside their country, curbs on activities of U. S. film producers' branch officers or subsidiaries.

There even are heavy taxes on the importation of music and foreign dialogue sound tracks on the film.

We do not, of course, retaliate by limiting the importation of foreign films into the United States.

Among those nations which restrict our films in one or another of these techniques or a combination of them are the Philippines, France, the United Kingdom, Spain, Italy. Now hear this: also South Korea, South Vietnam, Also Pakistan, Brazil, Argentina, Indonesia and Malaya.

All of these countries hit us with screen-time quotas. This means that either by legislation or simple government decree these nations require that their hearts devote a specific portion of their screen time to exhibition of "national films."

THESE RESTRICTIONS limit not only the big features but the short subjects as well. Our film industry has been so hard hit on the latter that the U.S. movie industry now makes only 25 per cent of the short subjects it made in 1953.

At the same time the foreign governments subsidize their own film industries. Behind the curtain, or in "Socialist lands" the government simply has no real cost accounting system or wage standards. So they can give their facilities away for a cut of the picture profits. Sometimes the governments supply outright financing, as in France. Elsewhere, the government gives theater owners cash for showing national films.

Obviously this is rough competition for our own movie makers. The U. S. industry, which has given all of us so many relaxing hours of escape from realism, has a real problem. They want a hand, not a handout from the government, just to get an even chance.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am a high school junior who undertook a part-time job which will enable me to save money for college.

A certain married woman who works in the shipping department where I load trucks has been very nice to me. I think she would like to be a lot nicer and this is my problem.

She is supposed to be through work at 6 p.m. but she always hangs around to have a cup of coffee with me. Her husband works the night shift and she says he doesn't have anything to do at home.

Yesterday she told me I ought to part my hair in the middle and then she took her comb out of her purse and started combing. She got so close to me she steamed up my glasses. I like her, Ann, but I don't want to get mixed up with a married woman.

She has pull with the boss and I can't take a chance on hurting her feelings. Please tell me what to do.—NO JOKE.

Dear No JOKE: Tell that shipping room Cleopatra you think she is charming but married women are strictly out of bounds. Then part your hair on the side, Buster.

Humility Not Dead

Dear Ann: I am furious with the mother of those eight children who wrote she "could scream" when she sees someone on the porch with a box of hand-me-down clothes.

The woman may speak for herself but she certainly does not speak for me. I have seven children. My husband has a good job, as hers does. We are not wealthy either — just comfortable. Our friends and relatives have been bringing us hand-me-downs ever since the children were babies. It's been a great help.

I've never considered hand-me-downs an expression of pity. They are gifts of good will from people who like and respect us. The children's attitudes are extremely healthy. They never have been too proud to wear second-hand clothes. They actually argue about who is going to get what.

So, please, Ann Landers, make it plain that SOME of us love to see those boxes. Humility is not an altogether extinct virtue. —GRATEFUL.

Dear Grateful: You made it plain and I thank you.

Cigarette Chiseler

Dear Ann: I have a touchy problem which revolves around a headstrong boss and his irritating habit of bumming cigarettes.

Mr. H. is under doctor's orders not to smoke — so he doesn't buy any. His son works in the office and has asked me to let him know at once if I see his father smoking.

If Mr. H. spots a pack of cigarettes on my desk he takes one. When I'm away from my desk he goes into the top drawer and helps himself. Whenever he sees me smoking he asks for a cigarette.

Yesterday when he asked for a cigarette I reminded him that the doctor said he should not smoke. He told me to mind my own business — that I was paid to work and not to lecture him about his health.

He burns from 8 to 10 cigarettes from me every day and I am sick of it. Please don't tell me to stop smoking. I enjoy it. What I need is a solution to the problem. —UP IN SMOKE.

Dear Up: The first thing in the morning, hand over your pack of cigarettes to the boss' son. When you want a cigarette ask him for one.

The boss will see no cigarettes on your desk, nor will he find any cigarettes in your desk drawer. When he sees you smoking and asks for a cigarette, refer him to his son. When you leave for the day take your cigarettes with you.

The Basque bodice was adorned with appliques of Alencon lace. As was the full bouffant skirt. A Swedish crown of pearls held the bouffant elbow-length veil of illusion. Mary Gause Becomes Bride of Francis Cozza Nuptial vows were exchanged Saturday in St. Phillip Neri Catholic Church at Dunganon, uniting in marriage Miss Mary Alice Gause, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Gause of RD 1, Hanoverton, and Francis E. Cozza, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Cozza of RD 3, Salem.

Before an altar graced with palms and flowers, Rev. William Apell officiated at the 11 a. m. double ring ceremony. Mary Ann Furey of Hanoverton presided at the organ console, and Dan Furey Sr. was soloist.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white imported lace with pearl insets gracing the high neck. The flared skirt fell to a chapel train. A double crown of pearls held her fingertip-length veil of illusion, and she carried a prayer book topped with white roses.

Mrs. Frank Zehentbauer, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a full-length gown of light green taffeta with a scoop neck, complemented with a wide picture hat.

Nancy Gause, sister of the bride, Mrs. James R. Gause and Mrs. Robert Gause, sisters-in-law of the bride, were bridesmaids. They wore outfits of yellow made like that of the matron of honor. All gowns and hats were designed and made by the bride and Mrs. James Gause.

Theresa Gause, niece of the bride, was flower girl, in yellow dress and hat.

Ernest Cozza was best man for his brother. Ushering were Frank Zehentbauer, James R. Gause, brother of the bride, and William Richey, Charles Gause II, nephew of the bride, carried the rings.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Gause wore a yellow linen sheath dress and Mrs. Cozza a beige lace sheath.

Reception Follows

A reception was held at 7 p.m. in the church social rooms where a four-tier cake topped with miniature bride and bridegroom graced the bride's table which was lighted with green and yellow tapers.

Among the 250 guests registered by Miss Alice Marie Gruber were those from Michigan, Pennsylvania and Indiana.

For her honeymoon to an undisclosed destination, the bride wore a blue suit.

A graduate of United High School, the bride is a senior majoring in home economics at Kent State University.

Mr. Cozza is a graduate of United High School, attended Kent State University and is serving in the armed forces, stationed in Germany.

At the close of his leave the bridegroom will return to Germany and the bride will complete her education.

ground. This holds the shrubs away from the sides of the house but does not damage them. An old sheet or shower curtain could be used instead of tarpaulin.

PAINTER.
DEAR HELOISE: I break up ice cubes for my little children in hot weather. I had always used a knife handle and set ice chips flying everywhere. Now I use a nutcracker, and you can get them all cracked up in no time at all, and no mess either.

MRS. WAYNE PETERS.
DEAR HELOISE: Don't throw away those boys' slacks that are somewhat shabby at the knees. . . . Just cut them off and hem them and they make good-looking shorts.

D.M.R.
DEAR HELOISE: Rather than use chemical bleach on your dish towels to whiten them, spread them on the grass instead of hanging them on the clothesline. They will be snowy white.

MRS. ALTON COOK.

LADIES: This woman is exactly right. While traveling through Mexico, we happened to notice that all of the Mexicans who were "in the laundry business" laid their clothes on the green grass. After asking a few of them why our answer was that the "green" in the grass is what bleaches the sheets, pillow cases, bath towels, etc.

We have tried this for the last two years and it does work.

We also found out that when the people in this country get a dingy load of laundry they leave the sheets, shirts, etc., on the green grass over night. They claim that the dew from God, which falls at night, and the sunshine the next morning, which the Lord also sends, does all of their work for them. I cannot contest this even though all home economists do not agree. We tried it, after printing a couple of years ago and women wrote in that it was the only answer.

After all you don't have anything to lose. You have used no bleach, no extra soap or energy. In case you just happen to have a few articles in your house which need whitening, try it. At least you are not wasting your energy hanging them on the clothesline.

HELOISE.
DEAR HELOISE: When washing men's and boys' T-shirts, I stretch them in length while they are still wet and before hanging them on the line. I have found that they stretch considerably and retain their correct length.

I never hang T-shirts by the edge. I fold them over the line four or five inches from the bottom, then pin with the clothespins. You will find that they will keep their shape much better.

If you have a dryer, put your drapes in and turn the dryer to air fluff, which means no heat. You will be surprised at all the dirt and lint you will have in the lint trap.

My drapes are free of so much dust and smell really clean.

MRS. B.

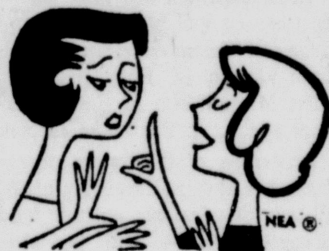

DEAR HELOISE: I always fold my sheets and lay them flat on the ironing board when doing my ironing. . . . then I iron my husband's shirts over the sheet. (If I have wide dresses that will fit over the sheet on the board, I iron them also.)

I find that my sheets are ironed better than they would be if I ironed them alone.

One can iron pillow cases this way, also. I not only save time but a portion of my electric bill, too.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise: Will you please tell your readers that it is far better to paint the outside trim or walls of a house once every two years with one coat of paint than to use two coats of paint any one season? This gives the paint a chance to "season."

Many people think that the heat vies the paint the better it is. Not so . . . Thin the paint slightly until the brush does not "pull" and leave streaks.

When painters get ready to paint the outside, we throw an old tarpaulin with a rope tied to each end over the shrubs, and stake the ends of the rope to the

Final Mass Is Held for Pope John

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Envoys from around the world he tried to guide toward peace mourned Pope John XXIII today at a solemn Requiem Mass under the soaring dome of St. Peter's Basilica.

An empty symbolic coffin was on a somber black catafalque, ringed by 96 flickering candles.

Sitting near the catafalque were the envoys of 81 nations and world organizations. They included Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson of the United States, Prime Minister Sean Lemass of Ireland, Prince Albert of Belgium and the foreign ministers of France and West Germany.

Pope John had sought Christian unity. Today, for the first time in nearly 1,000 years, representatives of the Russian Orthodox Church attended a funeral Mass for a Roman Catholic Pope.

The triple-crowned tiara of the papacy, silver and gold studded with precious stones, rested on a cushion atop the coffin, shimmering in the candle glow.

Pope John was buried in a crypt beneath the basilica on June 6, three days after he died. The solemn state funeral was the last in a series of requiems held in St. Peter's during nine days of official mourning at the Vatican and throughout the Catholic world.

Weather Outlook

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Here is the official U.S. Weather Bureau summary of Ohio weather outlook:

Other than a 15-minute shower in the Youngstown area early today, the weather was clear, cool and dry over the state. Temperatures were in the 50s quite generally, after reaching into the high 70s on Sunday.

The morning weather map shows high pressure and dry weather from the central Great Plains states to the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley. The pattern is expected to persist for the next several days, resulting in continued dry weather and slightly below normal temperatures.

Early today Cleveland reported 58 degrees, Toledo 54, Columbus 55, Cincinnati 56. Zanesville was the coolest with 50.

Hanover Ruritans Hear Rev. Gerrard

Father-daughter night was observed when the Hanover Township Ruritan Club met recently at Bethesda Presbyterian Church. Rev. Paul Gerrard of Lisbon and his daughter were guests. Peter Marra presided.

Rev. Gerrard spoke on the theme of the rewards of clean and honorable living.

Tentative plans were discussed for a barbecue. A golf league is in operation with 24 members on 12 teams.

Next meeting will be July 1 at the New Garden Methodist Church.

25,000 At Annual Outing of Potters

Ideal weather prevailed Saturday for the 35th annual potters picnic at Meyers Lake Park in Canton and upwards of 25,000 potters and their friends took advantage of the event.

A bright sun warmed the crowd and kept the temperature in the mid 70s, but a breeze off the lake made the shady areas a cooling place in which to sit and watch others amuse themselves.

The crowd didn't appear to be as large as in previous years, with many vacant picnic tables, but Bob Howard, park manager, said "a good early crowd" was on hand as the day got under way with free rides between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Close friends indicated Ben-Gurion plans to retire to a settlement in the Negev Desert to write his memoirs and write on Jewish history.

this question," the three-star admiral told an AP reporter.

"We have come to the very definite conclusion that this would be a very effective force. We are convinced that our conclusions are right."

Meanwhile, it was learned from other knowledgeable sources that current U.S. thinking follows these lines:

—The cost of building and operating a force of some 25 Polaris surface vessels mounting about eight missiles apiece would be substantially less—perhaps $1 billion less—than the $5 billion mentioned in the past.

—The proposed NATO fleet would be built over a period of six or seven years.

—The Polaris launching ships would be constructed in the yards of the participating countries, which would provide a means of offsetting some of the cost of joining the force.

—Command of the vessels and the composition of their crews would probably be allocated in proportion to national contributions.

—The force probably would be under the NATO supreme commander in Europe, currently U.S. Army Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer.

marshal said, it overturned and slid 43 feet on its top. A passing motorist from New Garden saw McDevitt crawl on his hands and knees from the demolished convertible and notified the marshal.

Strikes House

Painter was on the scene when the second mishap occurred Sunday at 4 a.m. Ziegler was traveling east on Route 30, left the pavement and sheared off another pole not far from the McDevitt accident.

The marshal reported Ziegler's convertible, after hitting the pole, tore out a pine tree and struck the porch of the house of Mrs. Louise Clark. The convertible ricocheted off the house, went down the sidewalk a half block and plowed into a maple tree in front of the home of Mrs. Blanche Doran, just east of the A. J. Loudon Co. Painter's cruiser was sitting near the maple tree only a few minutes before the accident, but he had moved it into the Loudon Co. lot before.

Motorist Squeezed Off Road

Considerable damage was done to a car driven by Charles J. Whitfield, 20, of Massillon Saturday at 1:20 a.m. on Route 30, two miles west of Lisbon, but the motorist escaped injury when he grazed a power pole.

Whitfield told the Lisbon barracks of the State Highway Patrol he was traveling west when he veered right to avoid colliding with an oncoming car in his lane and attempting to pass another eastbound vehicle.

Poland Driver Cited

Elmer D. Logue, 56, of Poland was arrested for failing to yield the right of way after his car collided Sunday at 7:30 p.m. with another car driven by Robert Riley, 21, of 384 E. Chestnut St., Lisbon. The mishap occurred on Route 30, about five miles north of East Liverpool.

The patrol said Logue pulled from a stop sign into the path of Riley's northbound car.

Rex Hundertmark served his fourth year on the grand executive committee and was re-elected to another two-year term.

Robert Miller of Cincinnati was elected Grand Counselor of Ohio for the ensuing year, succeeding Carl Ramsey of Cleveland. William Schaeffer was named chairman of the Grand Youth Committee for the year. The 1964 meeting will be held in June in Cincinnati.

Reich and Hundertmark were named delegates to represent Ohio next week when the international UCT group holds its annual convention in Pittsburgh.

Two Women Fined After Crash Here

A traffic accident at the intersection of W. State St. and Georgetown Road at 7:57 p.m. Sunday resulted in minor damages to two westbound cars and in the fining of two Canton women.

A car driven by John Pops of MC 1, Salem, had stopped to make a left turn onto Georgetown Road when it was struck by an auto driven by Lucille Finley, 41, of Canton, who attempted to pass the other car.

Mayor Dean B. Cranmer fined Miss Finley $25 and costs for operating without a license and $10 and costs for reckless operation. Mary Jane Gilmore, 43, of Canton, cited for permitting an unlicensed operator to drive her car, was fined $15 and costs.

state literacy tests in voting was defeated 53 to 43, there has been a shift of 10 votes to the support of cloture. Senators absent for the 1962 test are expected to swell the total by three.

In a check of senators outside the South, an additional eight members representing votes cast against cloture on the literacy measure—expected to be part of the administration's new package—indicated they might be persuaded under certain circumstances to vote to cut off talk.

Five senators stood firm on their determination to vote again against cloture. Ten others represented in the anti-cloture group in 1962 declined to commit themselves on the issue.

Thus if those seeking to kill a filibuster got the support of all those who have changed their minds, those who were absent a year ago and those who remain doubtful, they could add up 64 votes. This would be three short of the 67 needed to curb debate if all 100 senators voted.

Tribe Sweeps 2 From Senators, Trails By 3½ Games

Indians Climb To 4th Place

Whitfield's Homer Breaks Up 2nd Tilt

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians still are riding high—in fourth place and just 3½ games behind the leaders—with a combination of steady pitching and clutch hitting.

Fred Whitfield came through Sunday with a three-run homer in a pinch-hitting role in the ninth inning of the second game to propel the Indians to a 6-4 triumph and a doubleheader sweep over the Washington Senators. Cleveland rallied for two runs in the eighth inning to capture the opener 4-2.

The two victories stretched the Tribe's winning streak to four. The surging Indians have won 10 of 11 and 14 of the last 16, a heady pace for a team that was in ninth place and 9½ games behind just two weeks ago.

Asked about pennant prospects, general manager Gabe Paul and manager Birdie Tebbets took a cautious attitude.

"Any one of a half dozen teams can win this thing," said Paul. "It's one of those ding-dong races and that's the way it's going to be."

"I prefer to look ahead, not back," said Tebbets in discussing the hot streak. "Just live a day at a time."

Ted Abernathy got credit for the first game victory, his first decision, after saving seven other games in the Tribe's surge. He came on in the eighth inning with the score tied 2-2 and held the Senators to two hits.

The Senators grabbed a 3-0 lead in the nightcap against Dick Donovan, including a homer by Jim King. Willie Kirkland's two-run homer in the third cut the margin to 3-2 and the Indians tied it up in the fifth.

The Indians were behind 4-3 in the ninth inning. Then Tito Francona, pinch hitting for Donovan, rapped a double. Dick Houser pushed a bunt past the pitcher's mound and beat it out. Whitfield batted for Jerry Kindall and slammed the game-winning homer.

Cleveland has a stretch of 24 games against Baltimore, Boston and New York.

Hiestand, Sternberger Reign As Ohio Trapshoot Co-Kings

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associate Press Sports Writer
VANDALIA, Ohio (AP) — A Highland County farmer and a Montgomery County kitchenware salesman reign today as co-kings of Ohio's trapshooters.

Veteran Joe Hiestand of Hillsboro and 25-year-old John Sternberger of Trotwood won the laurels in the five-day 77th state trapshoot which ended Sunday.

Hiestand, a farmer who won the North American clay target title for the third time back in 1938—the year Sternberger was born—broke 383 of 400 handicap, 16-yard and doubles targets to take the 1963 all-around crown. He failed to win an individual event, but was close in all.

Sternberger, a southpaw, won three events and piled up 858 hits in 900 tries to take the overall championship. The two tied at 91 for the doubles championship, and Sternberger won the shootoff by a target.

Hiestand, who has won more titles than any other scattergun artist, broke 95 from 25 yards in Sunday's handicap which attracted 1,023 shooters, while Sternberger was getting 90 from 27 yards.

The handicap title, and some $1,200 in cash, went to 34-year-old

Richard D. Smith, Newcomers-town school supervisor, who was appearing in his first state competition. He broke 98 of 100 to tie 25-year-old Bruce Shoup of Dayton, and then outshot the Gem City left-hander 24 to 23 to take the laurels.

Laura Louise Mote, 14, from New Madison, grabbed the feminine championship with 91 of 100, a target ahead of Anna Lee Smith of Washington Court House, Mildred Baughman of Ada, and Ida M. Fyffe of West Jefferson.

The junior championship went to 16-year-old Birch Davis of Milford with 97, a target off the big championship pace, and the sub-junior was taken by William D. Jackson of Columbus, a 12-year-old lad, with 89. Will Schaller of Newark broke 96 for second among the juniors.

Tied with young Davis at 97, and well up in the prize money, were Richard Clemons of Hilliard, John Edgar Woodward of McConnellsville, and Darold M. Lovelidge of Findlay.

Fourteen Ohioans, in addition to young Schaller, had 96. They included Charles W. Albright of Van Wert, John Burnett of Wilmington, Frank Uncapher of Van Wert, and M. J. Mathes of Massillon.

Tight Pennant Race Pleases Cronin; 5 Units Chase Yankees; Top Squads Sweep Twin Bills

By MURRAY ROSE

Associated Press Sports Writer
American League President Joe Cronin was as happy today as a cat who fell on a plate of sardines.

The AL pennant race has become as hot as midsummer's day at the Equator. A year ago Cronin was gleeful over a "shoe-horn" battle. Today you'd have to use a crowbar to pry the jamming teams apart.

New York's league-leading Yankees took two from the Detroit Tigers for their first twin conquest of the year and discovered the Chicago White Sox were still in a virtual tie with them, only a hot breath away.

The Boston Red Sox, Cleveland

Indians and Los Angeles Angels also swept doubleheaders, resulting in a complete shuffle of the next four places.

They're so tightly packed they must be suffering from claustrophobia. The Red Sox were third, 2½ games back of the Yankees and White Sox, with streaking Cleveland and slumping Baltimore each 3½ games back and Minnesota four games behind.

Largest Yankee Stadium Crowd

The Yankees bumped off the Tigers 4-0 and 6-3 before 44,357, largest crowd of the season at Yankee Stadium; the Red Sox copped their sixth in a row with 8-1 and 12-5 blitzes of the Orioles before 29,258 — biggest Boston turnout of the year; the White Sox edged the Kansas City A's 2-1 and 3-2 before 28,909 in Chicago; the Indians bumped off Washington 4-2 and 6-4 before a disappointing 15,347 attendance at Cleveland, and the Los Angeles Angels dismayed 36,160 Minneapolis-St. Paul customers by topping the Twins 5-3 and 5-4.

New York got fine pitching from Ralph Terry and Bill Stafford and extra-base power from the hitters in skinning the toothless Tigers.

Turley Tosses 3-Hitter

Terry hurled a three-hitter in the shutout opener. Tom Tresh's two-run double in the first inning and Tony Kubek's two-run homer in the third made work enjoyable for Terry. Stafford required help from Hal Reniff in the ninth but he had it made before then on two runs in the second and four in the fourth off ex-Yankee killer Hank Aguirre.

Detroit's Al Kaline, the AL's leading batter, ran his hitting streak to 14 games.

Johnny Buzhardt (8-2) pitched an opening game four-hitter, marred only by Norm Siebern's homer with two out in the ninth, and Juan Pizarro and Jim Brosnan combined their pitching talents in the second game for an eight-hitter for the White Sox.

In the second game, the White

Sox scored the big two runs for a 3-1 lead in the sixth on a triple by Jim Landis, a double by Nellie Fox, Pete Ward's bunt single and Floyd Robinson's single.

Mejias Clouts 3 Holmers

Roman Mejias walloped three homers—equalling his season's total—in the happy Red Sox' double rout of the Orioles, who lost their 15th of their last 18 decisions. Mejias hit two homers in the first game in backing Bill Monbouquette's (9-4) eight-hitter and the third in the free-hitting closer. Dick Stuart cracked his 15th homer—and his fifth in as many games—in the opener for the Red Sox.

The Angels put on a couple of late uprisings, scoring three runs in the ninth inning of the opener and two in the 11th inning of the closer to cut up the Twins twice. Felix Torres got key hits in both games.

Fred Whitfield's three-run pinch homer in the ninth inning of the second game and a cluster of hits in the eighth of the opener gave the crippled but hopped up Indians their 13th victory in their last 15 contests.

A Dozen Other Contests Provide Plenty Of Action

Tolson's 1-Hitter Sparks Elks To 1-0 Win In Junior Baseball Over Weekend

John Tolson tossed a one-hitter and got flawless fielding support from his Elks teammates to shut out Eljer 1-0 in a Salem Junior Baseball Class F League contest at Centennial North during the weekend.

In other contests Shaffer Ford trimmed Mullins 7-3, Fishers News decided Farmers Bank 5-3, and Sekely nipped Mullins 5-4. CIO 4022 handed Famous Market its first loss of the campaign 4-2, and Bliss got a terrific one-hit pitching job from Hilt Moffett to knock off CIO 3816 in Class E action at Centennial Park.

Petrucchi's rallied in the late innings to turn back Scotts Sports 16-3 and the Eagles Club clipped the Italian Club 6-4 in games at Memorial West; Hunts Industrial Union beat Bricker and Bricker 6-5, and UCT clipped the Lions Club 18-6 at Centennial South in Class G competition.

Moose defeated the Jaycees 33-8 and Merchants Vending trimmed CIO 1538 9-3 in Class H tilts at Reilly and Buckeye fields respectively.

The Elks of Class F scored their only run in the second on a hit batter, an error and a fielder's choice. Steve Smith raced home with one batter out.

Rick Metts spoiled Tolson's bid for a third straight no-hitter in the first inning, when he singled with two out.

Tolson struck out 13. His total for three games is 51. Losing hurler Chuck Montgomery gave up just two hits. Farb Tinsley and Metts held the winners hitless from the third on.

Roger Bowman hit a double and two singles, and Randy Marty had three hits for Shaffer Ford. Winning pitcher Don Wolfgang gave up just two hits and struck out 10.

Fishers picked up its first win of the season, following four straight setbacks. Lou Markovich led the winners with a triple and a single. Winning pitcher Rod Bentley struck out 10.

Sekely went an extra inning to beat Mullins. The winners tallied two runs in the top of the eighth on a double by Bob Bentley, a single by Gary Dickerhoff and a triple by Harry Owen. Bill Rist hit a home run in the three-run sixth.

Dave Conrad hit a double and a single to pace CIO 4022. Phil Conseno, the winning hurler, struck out 11 batters. The winners didn't make a miscue in the field.

Moffett backed up his one-hit pitching job by striking out 18. He issued only two walks. Losing CIO 3816 hurler Frank Candler gave up only three hits.

Petrucchi's scored five runs in the fifth and tacked on seven more in the sixth. Scotts Sports made 10 errors. Mike Mehno and Rob Faber led the winners with two hits apiece.

The Eagles Club broke its contest with the Italian Club wide open with a four-run third inning. Bob Brown collected a double and two singles to pace the winners.

Hunts Industrial Union put the game with Bricker and Bricker out of reach in the third with a five-run rally. George Spack and Bud Hillbrand led the winners with two hits apiece. Kenny Kenst and Craig Anderson struck out 14 batters.

UCT poured it in the middle innings, getting eight runs in the fourth, two in the fifth and five in the sixth. Jay Youtz hit a double and three singles to pace the winners.

Rookie Dodgers' Hurler Willhite Shuts Out Chicago 2-0 In Debut

By JIM BECKER

Associated Press Sports Writer
"I found my curve in Honolulu."

Those are not the opening words to a new hula tune, to be crooned to the strum of a ukelele, while palms and wahines sway.

It's the secret of the success of the newest flame-throwing pitcher imported by the Los Angeles Dodgers, 22-year-old left-hander Nick Willhite.

Willhite made his major league debut Sunday and shut out the Chicago Cubs 2-0 in the second game of a doubleheader. He gave up only five hits, struck out six and walked just one.

His win gave the Dodgers a split, as the Cubs won the opener 8-3. The National league-leading San Francisco Giants also split, losing to Houston 3-0 and winning 4-3, and the St. Louis Cardinals divided a pair with Pittsburgh, losing 4-7 in 12 innings and winning 11-7.

Phillips Win In 11 Frames
Philadelphia and Milwaukee split, the Phils taking the second game 7-4 in 11 innings and the Braves the opener 5-3.

The Cincinnati Reds scored the only sweep on the full 10-game slate, trouncing the New York Mets 11-5 and 10-3.

The Dodgers' young Willhite suddenly found his curve and his winning ways while working for Spokane in the Pacific Coast League.

Willhite's victory kept the Dodgers a game back of the Giants and a half game behind the Cards, after Bob Buhl beat them handily in the opener for his sixth victory.

The Giants, pitched into first place Saturday by Juan Marichal's no-hitter, held on when Billy Pierce and Jim Duffalo combined to stop a Houston ninth inning rally in the second game. Don Nottebart, who suffered a sprained right foot in the fifth inning, and Jim Umbricht combined to shut the Giants out in the opener. Catcher Jim Campbell's two-run double was the big blow for the Colts.

McBean Belts Home Run

Al McBean pitched six scoreless innings of relief for the Pirates.

The Braves fought back from a 3-0 deficit in the opener against the Phils, with five singles for four runs in the seventh inning.

In the second game the Phillies came from behind to tie the game in the ninth and win in the 11th. Jim Maloney won his 10th victory in the opener and Jim O'Toole his 12th in the second game for the Reds. The pitchers, who won 25 games between them last year, now have a combined 22-5 record, to take up the slack left by Bob Purkey and Joey Jay.

Heads For U.S. Open $25,000 Richer

Palmer Captures Thunderbird Golf In Playoff With Harney

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer
HARRISON, N.Y. (AP)—Arnold Palmer turns his attention to the U.S. Open today, richer, wiser, out of a nagging slump, and once again able to laugh and quip:
"After all these years, I've found my choking price. It's $25,000."
The 33-year-old Latrobe, Pa., strong boy—refreshed and relaxed after a month's layoff—shoved himself back on the throne of golf

Sunday by winning the $100,000 Thunderbird Classic in a sudden death playoff with skinny Paul Harney.
Gets Par On Extra Hole
Palmer put away his challenger by a stroke with a par 3 on the first extra hole after they had tied over the regulation 72 with 277 totals, picked up his winner's check for $25,000, and was able to say, without a grin:
"It's been a profitable week. I hit only one poor drive in the tournament. I hit only two shots that I was ashamed of. My game has improved a lot.

"That rest was just what I needed, I guess, although the way I approached to the 17th and putted on the 18th, I could have used the practice."

Although he shot a 2-over-par 72 on the last round and let Harney catch him when he hit a too-strong approach and a too-weak chip on the 17th and missed a three-foot putt on the 18th, Palmer dominated the Thunderbird from the start to finish.

Never out of the lead after firing a first-round 67 on the 6,550-yard, par 70 Westchester Country Club course, he showed he can be a front-runner as well as a stretch stormer when he has to.

It was a far different Palmer who flew his own plane to Brookline, Mass., late Sunday night for Thursday's start of the National Open than the one who quit the tour, ailing and disgusted, little more than four weeks ago.

Earnings Reach $400,000
With the $25,000 first prize, which led to Palmer's "choking" quip after his missed three-footer forced the playoff, the king became the first golfer in official PGA records to earn more than $400,000 in a career.

A pro since 1955, Palmer has piled up earnings of $401,323, has won 39 official tournaments plus two British Open titles, has won 10 of 13 playoffs in which he has been involved, and now trails the year's leading money-winner Jack Nicklaus, by only little more than $2,000.

Nicklaus, bothered by a sore neck here, pocketed $1,075 after shooting a 284 total and has $58,690 in official earnings. Palmer jumped into second place with $56,545.

Harney, with a final round 69, settled for the $10,000 second prize and defending champion Gene Littler took third money of $5,700 after a final round 67 left him but one stroke short of the Palmer-Harney tie.

Bliss Whips Consers In City Softball Loop

Bliss tallied four runs in the first inning and went on to dump Consers Construction 8-1 in a City Softball League Class A contest at Kelley Field Sunday.

The winners jumped into the lead on a walk, two hit batters, a pair of singles and a double by Fred Schmid.

Consers Construction had runners on base in all but two innings. The losers scored their run in the second on an error and singles by Clarence Beverly and Ray Crosser.

Schmid hit a triple and a double to spark Consers. Gene Oesch led the losers with a pair of singles.

PITCHING — Nick Willhite, Dodgers, 22-year-old left-hander called up from Spokane to the Los Angeles Dodgers, pitched a 2-0 shutout in his major league debut, against the Chicago Cubs. He struck out six and allowed only five hits.

Dupas, Moyer Meet In Bout For Crown

BALTIMORE (AP)—What's so rare these days as an Irish fighter and a boxer.

Both will be in the ring tonight at the Civic Center where Ralph Dupas of New Orleans and Denny Moyer of Portland, Ore., are scheduled for a 15-round rematch for the junior middleweight championship.

Dupas lifted the shiny new crown from Moyer by a split decision in his home town April 29. The new division was created only last year by the World Boxing Association.

Both are expected to be almost on the mark for the maximum 154 pound weight. Scoring will be on a system of awarding the winner of each round five points and the loser four or less and five each if even.

There will be no television or radio broadcast.

Salem Legion Beats Hanoverton Unit 8-5

A three-run rally in the fourth frame gave Salem a hard-earned 8-5 victory over Hanoverton in an American Legion contest at Centennial Park Sunday.

Leonita will travel to Salem for a clash Wednesday at Centennial at 6 p.m.

The winners raced to a 4-1 lead in the first two frames, then fell behind 5-4 in the top of the fourth.

Salem then picked up three markers on a hit batter, two errors, a walk and a single by Martin Waller.

Dave Capel and Rich Sweitzer combined to strike out 12 Hanoverton batters. Don Kendrick led Salem with a pair of doubles.

The losers took the lead in the fourth on two walks, a fielder's choice, two errors and singles by Marty Briceland and Jerry Powell, who paced Hanoverton with two hits.

It was the third straight win for Salem this season.

Piraino Captures Pro Bowling Event

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—A mere $275 and a 32nd place finish in Montreal was all 35-year-old southpaw Marty Piraino of Syracuse, N.Y., had to show for two years on the Professional Bowlers Association tour—until he came here.

He rang the cash register for $3,000 Sunday night when he won first prize in the $23,400 Warren Civic Open as his steady hook ball knocked down pins consistently. He wound up with 1,225 points to top 15 other finalists.

In second place was Dick Weber of St. Louis, who earned $1,500 with his 1,152 total. Carmen Salvino of Chicago was third with 961 points, followed by Ray Bluth, St. Louis, 936, and Andy Rogoznica, Chicago.

Piraino won 11 of 16 contests in the round-robin, averaging 214 a game.

Umpire Barlick Announces His Retirement

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Al Barlick, one of baseball's most highly respected umpires, has called himself out. But the question remains—will he change his decision?

There was no immediate response from the veteran arbiter who dropped out of sight after calling National League headquarters in the wee small hours Sunday morning to tell league secretary Fred Fleig: "I am fed up with the whole thing, and am going to quit and go home."

Barlick, a protégé of the late Bill Klem when he broke into the majors in 1940, checked out of his Cincinnati hotel about 3 a.m., shortly after the call to Fleig, apparently in order to drive to his home in Springfield, Ill.

Neither reporters nor National League President Warren Giles were able to reach him there. He did not work the New York Mets-Cincinnati Reds Sunday doubleheader as scheduled.

"All I have to say is that he is a fine umpire, a great umpire, and I hope he will reconsider," Giles said. "I have been unable to contact him and hope he will change his mind."

There was no official comment from league headquarters on the possible cause of his sudden decision, but Barlick and other NL umpires long have been dissatisfied with what they called lack of proper backing and supervision from league headquarters.

Barlick, originally a coal miner who started umpiring sandlot ball at $1 a game to earn money. Turned professional in 1936. He was 25 when he came to the National League in 1940.

He missed the 1956 and 1957 seasons because of illness, but since has been in good health. He umpired six World Series and five All Star games.

55,000 Fans Expected For Clay Fight

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
It's put up or shut up for Cassius Clay in London Town Tuesday night when he meets Henry Cooper, the British and Empire heavyweight champion.

Most of Britain and most of the expected capacity crowd of 55,000 in outdoor Wembley Stadium will be rooting for the London plasterer to nail Cassius with his left hook and rock him to sleep for the count of ten. But most feel sadly that it won't happen.

The Louisville Loudmouth, whose popularity in Britain matches that of a swarm of mosquitoes at a beach, is a 5-1 favorite to whip Ole 'nery in the 10-round.

Clay, 21, has an 18-0 record, including 14 knockouts. He is the No. 2 contender although his prestige was considerably deflated by his failure to make Doug Jones "fall in four" and by his narrow, disputed decision over the $188-pound New Yorker.

Clay, a 205-pounder, has trumpeted that Cooper, who weighs about 188, will "fall in five."

Cooper, 29, is ranked fourth by the World Boxing Association, and eighth by Ring Magazine. He has a 27-9-1 record, including four straight victories. The cockney has 18 kayotes to his credit and has been stopped five times.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

We have enlarged our parking lot again to take care of the ever increasing number of people who are choosing the Country Store as their shopping headquarters.

When you come to the Country Store come in by the gas station and out toward Lisbon. We have one way traffic. This makes it easier and safer and also avoids a lot of confusion.

You can now drive completely around the store and around the auction barn and out the out drive way.

Reality Missing In 'Show of the Week'

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — An NBC camera crew, following a San Francisco detective for 21 days and nights, attempted to patch together a realistic portrait of police work. Unfortunately for reality, Jack Webb in "Dragnet" and the detectives in "The Lineup" did it better or, at any rate, more satisfyingly.

The real-life detective in Sunday night's "Show of the Week" got around a lot—to a slashing, to a strangling, to the aftermath of a fight, to jails, to interrogation rooms, to Skid Row. He kept questioning people—some of them obviously drunk—but he almost never let them answer his questions.

It seemed apparent that most of the time the detective was talking cautiously for the camera, explaining things that didn't need explaining, moralizing earnestly, and trying to keep suspects or witnesses from saying anything libelous or incriminating.

At hour's end our detective had obtained one statement and located a missing witness, but had a lot still hanging fire.

A well-written and well-acted piece of fiction often has more authentic flavor than a documentary which obviously must protect the innocent.

First of the summer replacement shows moves into the network schedules Wednesday night, when "Mystery Theatre" takes over the Perry Como spot on NBC.

Recommended tonight: "Password," CBS, 10-10:30 (EDT) — game show not on reruns.

LET'S EXPLORE OHIO

This ruin of Gaston's Mill and the nearby Lock 36 on the old Sandy and Beaver Canal was a busy business scene back in 1840.

Today this is in the popular 1232-acre Beaver Creek State Forest and Park where thousands seek outdoor recreation in all seasons of the year, some eight miles southeast of Lisbon in Columbiana County.

James Whiteacre built this mill in 1837 and later it was purchased and operated by Philander Gaston. It used water power from the canal to grind flour and corn meal that went by canal boat down the Sandy and Beaver Canal to the Ohio River communities and into Pennsylvania.

The first paper mill west of the Alleghenies was built in 1805 on Little Beaver Creek near its mouth. By 1840, Columbiana County had a population of 40,394, largely because of the traffic on the canal and the Ohio River. This was a larger population than any other Ohio county with the exception of Hamilton County and Richland County.

About six miles directly west of Gaston's Mill is another historic spot which attracts many motoring families.
